KERR CITES INCREASING POPULATION AS REASON FOR INCORPORATION

Editors Note: Leslie Kerr, member of the taxation and revenue committee for the committee for Campbell incorporation cites the increasing population of the area as a vital reason for the incorporation of the community of Campbell in the following report. He stresses the need for home rule in contrast to absentee administration and gives various other reasons which he believes make the incorporation of Campbell a vital issue. Text of his report follows.

The population of Campbell has reached a density where the local area has actually become urban in character and requirement notwithstanding that its legal status is classified as rural. Thus the local citizens are being deprived of the advantages to be gained from home rule government.

Needs which were individual and adequate when Campbell was a small rural village have now become inadequate and the common problems are those of a community of some 8,000 people. The present needs of Campbell can be met only by united cooperation and action of its entire citizenry.

The massing of people together within a restricted area like that contained in the proposed corporate limits accentuates the difficulties of law enforcement, fire prevention, traffic control, health administration, sanitation, property investment, and the general well-being of all residents.

To prevent lawlessness, conflagration, hazard to life and limb, epidemics, depreciation of home values, and to provide for the future welfare of themselvs and their children, it is essential that the people of Campbell exert greater united effort to circumvent intolerable local conditions.

When people congregate in such number as they have in the local area need of urban services and performances become imperative. The simple or perfunctory way in which rural service is performed for hamlets and sparsely settled localities has long since become insufficient and unsuitable for this populous community. No longer are the citizens of Campbell able to depend on their county officials for protection and much needed improvement in civic welfare. Definitely, it is now a choice between satisfaction with "just anything" doled out or a determination of local residents to provide for themselves.

It is indeed perplexing to determine cause for failure to incorporate the town of Campbell as a sixth-class city. Is it because of doubt as to sufficient population? If so, the 1950 census shows: California had 304 cities; 186 cities with less than the 8,000 estimate for Campbell; 168 cities with less than 6,000 people; 135 cities with less than 4,000 inhabitants. Is it a fear of city taxes? Then see the October 26th issue of The Campbell Press and note summarized report covering this subject in detail. The report in question shows that different cities could and did operate without benefit from assessment of property taxes. Surely it is not a dislike for home rule; or that none of the people in Campbell are not competent to operate your city; or that you desire to subjugate your family to needless discomforts and hardships. Then, why not? Think it over carefully and deliberately, the result depends on your desire and actions.

The primary purpose of creating a city corporation is to permit local residents to provide their own services but chiefly to regulate and administer local or internal affairs. The extension of municipal activities will depend upon the demand of public opinion. Thus the cost of city operation is dependent upon the extent and nature of the services supplied. Except that, the passage of urban unincorporated legislation requiring payment by rural areas for urban services are inevitable, and thus if Campbell remains as a rural community the local homeowner will be compellel to pay additional county taxes; he has no voice whatever. Think it over Mr. and Mrs. Taxpayer. Which shall it be — home rule or absentee management?

There are those in opposition to incorporation of Campbell who cite instances of national and municipal corruption and extravagance. They believe that home rule for Campbell will result in greater opportunities for control by political machines and special interests, who, in turn, will plunder the city. Home rule, they say, will result in greater deterioration and skullduggery.

This reaction to the merits of home rule resolves itself into a distrust of the ability of the people of Campbell to govern themselves. Advocates of home rule believe, however, that the added power and responsibilities resulting from incorporation will generate the development of an enlightened and alert electorate.

Control over the administrative affairs of the city will be vested in a city council of five members selected by local voters at a city election. The control of the council over city finances probably is the most effective weapon at its command. Through a city budget and authorized appropriations, the council can expose or limit the actions of all departmental supervisors.

The success of a sixth-class municipal government like Campbell will have, depends in large measure upon the administrative personnel selected by the city council to head various department branches of the city. As long as these selections are made on the basis of merit and worth it is reasonable to assume that success will follow naturally and surely. If positions in the city services are looked upon as rewards or personal favors, efficiency on the part of such employees cannot be expected.

Public safety, the freedom from danger or risk of life and property, will be an important function in the management of Campbell when local citizens accept home rule and govern themselves. It includes, essentially, the two city departments of police and fire protection.

An honest, efficient, and humane police department depends to a considerable extent upon the personal actions and mental attitude of the individual patrolman. Thus the method of selecting these law-enforcement officers is a matter of deep concern to every law-abiding resident of Campbell. However, the maintenance of law and order in Campbell will be materially affected by the honesty and fairness of the local courts.

The fire department is a component part of the public safety service. It takes care and charge of the protection of property against destruction by fire. It performs two distinct functions, to wit—fire prevention and fire fighting.

Fire prevention is inherently concerned with remedial measures. First, the fixing of fire limits or regions in which inflammable structures must not be erected. Second, a gradual effort made to eliminate those structural features which experience has demonstrated to be fire spreading agencies. Third, adequate inspection and enforced compliance with fire regulations covering

Pictured above is the Ray McVea residence at 246 West Campbell Avenue as it will appear next Sunday. This is the second year that Mr. and Mrs. McVea will decorate their home. They state that all the decorations were put up by themselves. The McVea's claim they would like to see more homes of the neighborhood decorated during the Christmas season and hope that neighbors of the district will follow suit.

COUNTY AND LOCAL OFFICIALS OFFER HELP TO HOTRODDERS

County law enforcement officials, juvenile probation authorities county recreation officials, and local schools all offered their support and cooperation to teenage hotrodders gathered at the Campbell Congregational Church last night to discuss formation of a club.

Sheriff's Inspectors J. E. Heeschen and Henry Carter offered the full cooperation of their department in working out any plans the youths might formulate. They emphasized however, that while they are willing to offer advice and cooperation, they felt that the club should be formed by the teenagers and entirely run by them.

Laurance J. Hill, superintendent of Campbell High School District, told the group that the school was willing to offer any of their educational programs to youths who wished to attend school. "In addition," he continued, "we feel that we are justified in starting an evening class in auto mechanics for all those who wish to attend it as soon as completion of our new agriculture and mechanics building provides necessary space. Any course we offer would of course, be confined to instruction and demonstration of auto mechanics and related theories. We feel that we would not be justified in merely offering you garage service.

The Campbell superintendent offered the use of any of the recreational facilities and equipment of the school which might be used at any time when school was not in session.

J. C. Dugan, deputy juvenile probation officer, offered the full cooperation of his office as did the county recreation authorities.

AMERICAN TRUST BONUS

Jack Payne, manager of the Campbell branch of the American Trust Company, announced that a previous report that employees and officers of the company would receive one-half of a week's salary as Christmas bonus was in error. "They will receive one-half of one month's salary instead," he added.

AMERICAN AUTO SUPPLY WILL OPEN TONIGHT

The American Auto Supply will stage its grand opening ceremonies tonight at their completely remodeled location at 262 East Campbell Avenue. Featured event of the opening will be the appearance of Shorty Joe and his Red Rock Canyon Cowboys, western band who will play for the entertainment of customers from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. Free gifts will be available to all who attend and orchids will be given to the ladies. Balloons will be handed out to the children.

The store is a branch of the American Auto Supply of San Jose and will be managed by Bob Kelly. Kelly recently moved to his Cambrian district home from Lake Tahoe. He is married and has two boys. During the war, he served six years with the U. S. Navy in the Pacific theatre. He states that the store is equipped to handle some wholesale trade and will specialize in supplies for the "backyard auto mechanic."

Frank Petty To Manage Press Circulation Dept.

Mr. Frank Petty has been named to take charge of the circulation department of the Campbell Press beginning December 1. Petty, who will be assisted in his position by his wife, has had extensive experience as district manager of several large daily newspapers in Washington and Oregon. He has also served on the circulation staffs of several California papers. Mr. and Mrs. Petty are planning to take up permanent residence in Campbell.

Grange Opposes UMT Measures

Members of the Orchard City Grange passed a resolution opposing legislation for universal military training at their meeting held Tuesday night in the Odd Fellows Hall. Passage of the resolution followed a report by Grange Master George Shattuck on the State Grange Convention held recently in San Jose. Shattuck reported the delegates to the convention opposed the measure on the grounds that the draft is already hampering farm production too much by draining off young farm workers. The group also directed the secretary to write the Public Utilities Commission opposing PG&E rate increases.

Mrs. Nellie Rutherford was acting lecturer for the evening in the absence of A. J. Emery. Judge Martin S. Walsh showed motion pictures of his recent trip to Canada and western states this summer.

The group laid plans for the Christmas party to be held December 11. Children have been invited to attend and program committee has asked that members bring small gifts for exchange presents.

Next meeting of the Home Economics Club will be at the home of Mrs. Willie Windrum in Santa Clara.

GOVERNMENT OK'S ALLOCATION OF CRITICAL MATERIALS FOR NEW QUITO ELEMENTARY SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION

Another new school for Campbell Union School District was definitely assured this week. Superintendent William C. Henley said he has received National Production Authority approval and allocation of critical material for Quito School, which will be located on the southeast corner of Quito and McCoy Avenue. Bids for construction are expected to be received early in January. Construction should begin about February 1. It is hoped the school will be ready for pupils by September of 1952.

This means, if building schedules can be followed, that three new schools will be ready by Fall of 1952. Cypress School is already under construction. Bids for Rosemary School will be received December 18.

Henley said the district has also received approval by the State department of education to start construction of a fourth new school in the northeast corner of Campbell. If N.P.A. approval can be secured, construction will start early next Fall. The school would be completed early in 1953.

Quito School has been reduced in size from the original plan, but will have eight classrooms, kindergarten, multipurpose room and an administrative unit.

The school approved for northeast Campbell will consist, to start with, of five classrooms, kindergarten, multipurpose room and adminstrative unit. Cypress and Rosemary School will have eleven classrooms.

A tentative building schedule to cover the new schools and additions and completions to present schools has been set up by the district. In addition to dates already mentioned, it includes: additional shop and music buliding at Campbell School and cafeteria or multipurpose room at San Tomas to be started by April 15 and completed by about October 15; a multi-purpose room at Campbell and completion of unfinished classrooms at San Tomas during the summer vacation of 1952; Moorpark School unfinished classrooms and cafeteria, if litigation is cleared up in time, to be finished during summer of 1952.

Construction of the four new schools and the additional projects listed above will complete the projects to be carried out under the current State financed program.

Cal Wins And Agostinho Pushes

The strange procession of cars led by one man pushing another in a wheel barrow down Campbell Avenue last Saturday was not a wedding celebration or two escapees from an insane asylum, but merely payment of a bet made on the Stanford-California big game. Joe Feasel had made a wager with Joe Agostinho that California would trounce Stanford in the big game. Loser was to push the winner down Campbell Avenue in a wheelbarrow.

The two men were followed by their wives in a car decorated with the Stanford and California school colors. Within a short time, the procession was joined by other cars with blowing horns and drivers shouting.

Feasel and Agostinho and their wives watched the game over television in the Feasel home on West Rincon Avenue. Agostinho states he offered to start the procession at the end of the third quarter, but Feasel made him wait until the 20-7 California victory was complete.

Stamp Plan Nears Completion

Members of the Campbell Merchants' Committee Stamp Organization met Thursday noon at Martin's Restaurant to discuss further plans for the project. Cel Gerevas was appointed to the board of directors in addition to Harold Estensen, T. A. Solari, Dobie Jeffers, L. E. Means, and Frank Accardi, who were named to the board last week.

Merchants expect to put the plan into effect during the first part of January. Final deadline for additional merchants to join the plan has been set as December 5. A canvass by the 30-member merchants is now being made of prospective members.

Purpose of the plan, a spokesman stated, is to promote additional trade in the local trading area through the use of a trading stamp plan whereby customers are given stamps at the rate of ten per every dollar purchase. Stamps could be refunded for merchandise at any of the participating merchants' place of business.

$8,000 Asked For Cambrian Center

Contributions are now being solicitated for the $8000 goal set for the construction of a youth and recreation center for the Cambrian district. The move, sponsored by the Cambrian Men's Club, is being made in an effort to provide greater facilities for the use of youth and adult groups on their various meeting nights.

A spokesman for the Men's Club stated that the increasing population of the area has made the limitation of membership of many of the youth and adult groups of the area a virtual necessity. "In many cases," he stated, "crowded conditions have forced clubs and organizations to hold two meetings to care for their full membership."

Groups who would meet in the proposed center include Brownies, Cub Scouts, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, 4-H groups, Bluebirds, Y. M. C. A. groups, Explorer Posts of the Boy Scouts, Teen-age dancing groups, Farm Extension organizations, Cambrian Men's Club and Home and Service Club.

Ralph H. Hyde Makes Hobby Of Map Collecting

Ralph H. Hyde has just completed a collection of maps of every state in the Union and, in addition to these, Alaska, British Columbia, Mexico, and full map of the United States.

These maps show every city in the U. S. in excess of 500 population, also main U. S. highways and condition of all other state hiwhys and dirt roads. Every map shows boundaries of each couny, scale of miles, principal cities with their population, and other information.

Maps are now on file in the Campbell Water Co. office where you will find them alphabetically indexed, making it easy to locate your home town in any state.

Mr. Hyde has many other maps in addition to the above as this is one of his hobbies. The other of course, is colored pictures, but he still manages to find time to look after his insurance business.

Hyde has made a hobby of collecting maps and has been interested in the subject for more than 40 years.

Muir Forecasts Strong Squad For '52 Season

Grid mentor Jim Muir forecast a vastly improved squad for next season's contests this week. He stated the Bucs have been plagued by fumbles and lack of experience during their winless season which was just concluded with a loss to Los Gatos. "Next year we'll have more depth and a greater number of experienced ball handlers," he said.

The Buc eleven will be bolstered by the return of several standbys in the forward wall. Notable among them will be Dick Gleed in the tackle spot, Ron Eddlemon at center, and Takanaga at end. Backing them up will be Ron Webb, sophomore center, Gary Hingley, who has shown exceptional promise in various positions on the JayVees and as second string end. In the backfeild, returning veterans will include Sutton at quarterback, and Musladin and Big Bill Gregg at fullback and Larry Pereira in one of the halfback spots.

Muir believes he'll have a better balanced team with the addition of greater experience in the key positions.

BUC CAGERS MEET WILLOW GLEN TODAY

Seven experienced Buc varsity cagers are sure to see plenty of action this afternoon when they run up against Willow Glen in the opening tilt of the season. The locals, who will be blessed with plenty of height in their initial tilt, are still in what Coach Bert Robinson calls "the formatve stage." The blonde cage coach expects to show more players in the lineup shortly after he finds what his boys can do against Willow Glen. With six three-year men bolstering his squad, he should have little trouble fielding a good team.

While Robinson declined to make any forecast on the outcome of the contests, he cautioned that Willow Glen always turns out a good squad. "This will be no walk away for either of our squads," he said.

Mrs. JORDON RAMSEY of of Pittsburg and three children, TOMMY, ALLEN and DENISE were down over the Thanksgiving weekend to visit with Mrs. C. E. WILLIAMS of 200 S. Winchester road.

High School Girls Honor Mothers Tuesday

Sophomore girls of Campbell Union High school feted their mothers Tuesday at the second annual sophomore tea in the dance studio in the new girls' gymnasium. Decorations carried out a fall theme with fall flowers. Mothers were served refreshments of individual cakes, ice cream, candy, nuts and tea. Entertainment was provided by members of the sophomore class.

Virginia Ensminger was in charge of the committee for refreshments; Pat Job headed decoration committee; Judy Zimmerman chairmanned the entertainment committee, hostess committee was in charge of Henrietta Panyuaqua and Jeanne Sims headed the publicity and poster committee.

Faculty advisors were Mrs. Vivien Gregory, Mrs. Betty Youngman and sophomore English instructors.

Mrs. EDMOND BLACKMUN had as her guest for Thanksgving dinner her father, Mr. TOM HORTON of San Jose.

Maybe it's Cold Outside!

It used to be that everyone talked about the weather, but nobody did anything about it. That's all changed, now. Passengers on today's modern trains have weather tailor-made for them—at least while they're aboard. It's always "fair" on today's streamliners, thanks to the miracle of air-conditioning.

Chair Cars on Southern Pacific's great streamliners have been built with your comfort the first consideration. Dust-free, draft-free air-conditioning. No-glare fluorescent lighting. Soft-as-a-cloud foam-rubber seats. Lots of leg room and move-around room. Circulating ice water. Feather-touch doors. Spacious washrooms.

That's why Chair Cars on Southern Pacific streamliners are the most luxurious form of all low-cost transportation.

places frequented by children and the masses, such as theaters, schools, factories, and others. Finally, campaigns of popular education.

The science of fire fighting is too complicated and too involved to be suitably treated in the limited space available. Except, it may be appropriate to state that, wooden structures and shingled roofs do not cause fires to start, but merely enable the started fire to make rapid headway. This is one of the reasons why insurance rates are higher on such buildings. Fires start, generally, as a consequence of human negligence.

It is through organization that a group operates for its objective and no matter how good the objective is, it usually cannot be carried out without organizing, that is, dividing up its work among group members. Thus if the people of Campbell wish to secure urban services which cannot be obtained as a rural community, they must of necessity organize themselves into a city-corporation group. When the objective has been accomplished, the people then select their own officials to manage and operate their own city.

After the city officials have been chosen by ballot, they take office and act as agents of the entire city population in doing the things the people have given them authority to do. Certainly the people of Campbell cannot meet together in one body to do these things, consequently, they must appoint representatives to act in their stead.

If many of the local citizens fail to register or neglect to vote, the "rule of the majority" may become the rule of a few. Each voter of Campbell should do his best to vote wisely. It is only through wise voting that the people can elect efficient and honest officials who will give them a modern, up-to-date city government.

You may feel uneasy about your decision, but you are almost sure to feel proud of having made one. You can feel proud, too, that you have not shirked your duty as an American citizen.

Students To Move To New Rooms

D. M. Bagby, superintendent of Cambrian School District, announced this week that five of twelve new rooms now under construction will be ready for occupancy at the end of Christmas vacation. He added that the remaining seven rooms will be completed by the middle of January. Bagby stated that the school has been fortunate in being able to avoid double sessions during the construction of the new classrooms. Students have been occupying portions of the old building and temporary barracks which have been constructed.

JC's Attend Meet

Three members of the Campbell Junior Chamebr of Commerce represented their group at the county safety meeting in San Jose Tuesday night. Purpose of the meeting was to plan formation of a county wide safety committee with representatives from each locality.

SCOUT NOTES

Campbell Scout troops are distributing posters for the T.B. Association as their annual good turn for this nationwide cause.

Homer Hyde, district chairman, held a meeting Monday of his district officers to plan and set objectives for the coming year. Those present included L. J. Hill, finance; Al Smith, camping and activities; Bill Means, health and safety; Ruday Ledum, advancement; and Ken Robison, field executive. Hyde reported all positions were filled except those of leadership training and district commissioner. A plan was initiated to recruit men for the positions.

With 23 troops, packs and explorer units in the Campbell district, additional plans and objectives to meet the normal growth and demands of the groups will be agreed upon at the next district meeting to be held December 6 at the Campbell high school.

Troop 47 of the Union district will be the last troop for the scoutmaster's round table on December 12. A feature of this meeting will be San Tomas Troop 30, which will present "Mapping and Compass Work."
